We are thus particular to make this correction because it is a matter of importance to Mr. HEREFORD and we would ot knowingly misrepresent him. Senstor Davis, it thus seems, is alone in his glory, as the only member of the West Virginia delegation who voted for the "salary steal." There is no mistake, we regret to say, about his vote.

FROM the Kingwood Journal we learn that Col. WM. B. CRANE, of Portland, gaged in the mercantile pusiness at the town of Portland the greater part of the time for twente vears. His education was time for twenty years. His education was limited to such as he could get at that time in the country where he was raised, but notwithstanding the disadvantages under which he labared in consequence of a defective education, he rose to distinction in his country and was honored with tion in his county and was honored with offices of distinction and trust. He served with credit several terms in the State Legislature, the last two in the Senate

Col. CRANE was well known and escemed in this city. He was a member of the convention which met here in June, 1861, and reorganized the Stategovernment, and subsequently of the Legislature, as stated. He was a man of very large stature and fine physique, and was possessed of strong common sense and many estimable qualities. He was much esteemed in the public bodies of which he was a member. At the time of his death he was not quite fortynine. He leaves a wife and five children with ample property.

SENATOR GRANTHAM'S SPRECH .- The speech of Senator Grantham of Jefferson county on the peculations of the Public Printer, printed in this paper, is a document that will pay for reading. It is a dignified, earnest and convincing vindication of his own action as a member of the committee charged with the investigation of the Printer's accounts last official and of those who try, for supposed partisan expediency, to screen him from punishment. What gives this arraignment the more force and significance is, that Mr. GRANTHAM is a Democrat of the straightest sect. He is of the old school which believed honesty in office a timebonored Democratic principle, rather than of the modern school which believes nothing except that "to the victors belong the

SENATE-EXTRA SESSION.

Washington, March 23.—The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Caldwell investigation. Mr. Ferry, of Michigan, regretted that

Mr. Ferry, of Michigan, regretted that the Senator from Connecticut (Ferry) had submitted a resolution of expulsion. He had given close attention to the debate on the question whether bribery invalidates the election of a member. This debate was confined to the legality of the act by which Caldwell held his seat. It appeared that the majority of the Committee on Elections were in doubt as to the proper method, to be purposed. method to be pursued, therefore they chose the present question involving the validity of his election.

Mr. Morton interrupted Mr. Ferry's remarks as to the resolutions already pending from different Senators on the subject, and said that he, as chairman of the committee, took the ground that the Senate had the choice of remedies and favored expulsion, but the majority of the com-respect due to the State action and his constitutional duty to deal rigidity with official wrong. He then offered an amendment to the amendment pending to place back the first question substantially where it first appeared from the committee, as follows: "That Alexander Oaldwell be and is hereby declared to have been elected Senator of the United States by the Logical state of Kayasa." Mr. Alcorn rose and discussed the question, maintaining that the Constitution makes the act of the Legislature in the election of Senator a subject of review by the Senate.

Mr. Ferry in explaining his reasons in having heretofore offered the amendment to the committees resolution proposing the expulsion of Caldwell said in examining all the sydence he was un.

that Col. Wm. B. Chane, of Portland, died on the 15th inst. of malignant carbuncle on the neck, with which he had been afflicted since the latter part of January. The Journal says:

Some time was spent in exchange of views as to fixing the order inj which the pending propositions shall be voted on, but no arrangement was made. No Senator rising to continue the debate, the but no arrangement was made. No Sur-ator rising to continue the debate, the closing speech devolved on Mr. Morton.
